Object: Admission in Bachelor at the University College Dublin

Dear Sir, Dear Madam

I am writing to apply for University College Dublin, in Ireland, to study for the Bachelor in Marketing Practice.

I am 17 years old and I am a French student.

I have always wanted to go to Ireland because I like this country, so I think this is a very good opportunity for me because I want to discover Ireland, I have always been captivated by the culture and history of this country, I love the landscapes in Ireland and I know that the Irish people are nice and friendly, this encourages me to visit this country because I want to meet them, going to this University is a way to make friends and highlight my sociability: Ireland is known for its friendly and warm lifestyle, making it an ideal place for international students.

Regarding education... I know the Irish university system has a lot of skills, so to start I will be able to speak in English and master the language.

Ireland offers a lively and exciting student life, with many social and cultural activities for students.

Ireland has become a popular destination for international businesses.

The country is a global leader in technology, life sciences, finance and green energy, so I can have lots of opportunities after my studies.

In conclusion, I am very eager to explore Ireland and spend years over there among you in this university, I think it is a excellent experience.

Thank you for taking the time to read my letter.

Sincerely,
